Delinquency in 12 Easy Lessons

As you know, if you read the papers, Houston has been having more than its share of juvenile trouble lately. Much of it has come from so-called privileged homes.

As a result, the Houston police department has issued a little pamphlet, free to any parent, titled: "How To Make a Child Into a Delinquent: 12 Easy Rules."

WHAT IS TRUE about raising children in Houston is true here—and in Pampa, Hereford, Plainview, Kansas City, Kankakee, Paris, and Calcutta.

So here are the 12 rules Houston police say are sure fire in raising delinquents:

1. Begin at infancy to give a child everything he wants. In this way he will grow up to believe the world owes him a living.
2. When he picks up bad words, laugh at him. This will make him think he's cute.
3. Never give him any spiritual training. Wait until he's 21 and let him decide for himself.
4. Avoid the use of the word "wrong". It may develop a guilt complex. This will condition him to believe later, when he is arrested for stealing a car, that society is against him and he's being persecuted.
5. Pick up everything he leaves lying around. Do everything for him so that he will be experienced in throwing all responsibility on others.
6. Let him read any printed matter he can get his hands on. Be careful that the silverware and glassware are sterilized, but let his mind feast on garbage.
7. Quarrel frequently in his presence. In this way he won't be too shocked when the home breaks up later.
8. Give him all the spending money he wants. Never let him earn his own.
9. Satisfy his every craving for food, drink and comfort. Denial may lead to harmful frustration.
10. Take his part against neighbors, teachers and policemen. They are all prejudiced against your child.
11. When he gets into real trouble, apologize for yourself by saying: "I never could do anything with him."
12. Prepare for a life of grief. You'll be likely to have it.

Trivia

After a wife gets her husband to think as she does, she changes her mind.

Remember how you kicked about the heat of last summer? Now it's costing you plenty.

The high cost of living leads to your children coming back to you two by two after they've left you one by one.

Any young girl is sweet enough to eat if some fellow will take her to a nice restaurant.

Now that the football season is over the interference in football will come when the alumni get together.

Hawaii had its own conquering hero before Napoleon made himself master of Europe. The World Book Encyclopedia says King Kamehameha I, the chief who united most of the islands in 1795, was called the "Napoleon of the Pacific" because of his conquests.

The number of bank robberies in the United States climbed to 417 in 1958, a 50 per cent increase over 1957.

Take a Moment

TO THE AMARILLO DAILY NEWS:

Take Time For Ten Things:
1. Take time to worship — it is the highway of reverence which cleanses and restores the soul.

2. Take time to work — it is the price of success.

3. Take time to think — it is the source of power.

4. Take time to read — it is the foundation of knowledge.

5. Take time to play — it is the secret of youth.

6. Take time to help and enjoy friends — it is the secret of happiness.

7. Take time to love — it is the one sacrament.

8. Take time to dream — it hitches the soul to the stars.

9. Take time to laugh — it is the singing that helps with life's loads.

10. Take time to plan — it is the secret of being able to have time to take time for the first nine things.

Quietness is an unusual thing in this modern day merry-go-round of hurrying to and fro. The telephone wakes us in the middle of the night maybe only for the wrong number. The alarm clocks rouses folks from their sleep to get a hurried cup of coffee, while the weatherman tells them to take it easy. It is then that they take off through the stop signs, speed zones and honking cars, trying like it was a matter of life and death to get to the office for an hour of work before the first coffee break.

The day is filled with the pushing and shoving of other folks all wound up like fizzes. The machines whir and the typewriters click, set to music by the distant sound of a croaking radio or a television set. All this fuss and bother is aggravated by the impatience and cussed rushedness of all the customers. Home again to the shoot-em-ups of western programs and the tempest in a tearoom effect of the different members of the family getting ready for an over-crowded evening.

This is all contrary to the way it should be and conducive to a crop of ulcers, nervous break-downs, family break-ups to say nothing of the every day habit of blowing one's stack. We predict that if each of us could have an hour or so of quiet-time worked into our day that the doctors could have their quiet time too once in awhile.

The Bible tells us to be still, to wait, to listen, and see what great things will come to pass. We believe in work. But we also believe in rest. What better way to rest than to just be quiet. Perhaps even take a walk all by ourselves.

We wonder if, we the people, remember the good that folks do during their life for a longer time than we do the bad or, do we just remember more of the bad for a shorter length of time? This question has bothered me for a long time and we never seem able to fully convince our own self which statement is true.

For instance, take George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, who had their troubles, ups and downs, along with the best of them, and now we mostly remember only the good things about their life.

Then, take the modern day presidents and statesmen and we can hardly mention anyone of them in any group without stirring up a tirade of unfavorable comments from a large percent of the group.

Lately, we have thought that more and more nice things are being said about President Wilson and his administration, and even the much talked about President Hoover is being quoted more and more, especially his bits of philosophy.

Mostly, we seem inclined to believe that the good sticks in our minds and hearts for a longer time, and the bad tends to play out after awhile. Even during the lifetime of one of our neighbors we sometimes magnify his faults to the point of even talking about them. When we pass by their body in the church, after their death, we remember only the good. At least the good stands out more predominantly.

If this be true, it would seem that we should try harder to see the good in a brother when we just pass in the aisle; alive, that is.

The Shepherd

CHRIST AND RICHES

"What shall I do that I may have eternal life?"

Mat. 19:16

A rich young man asked Christ one day . . . How much a man like him must pay . . . To gain eternal life and he . . . Heard Jesus say he must agree . . . To give up all and follow Him . . . But his view of this plan was dim . . . Because his riches meant so much . . . And each one of us faces such . . . As true disciples of the Lord . . . And if we'd claim His rich reward . . . We, too must pay the fullest price . . . In efforts, time and sacrifice.

—JULIEN C. HYER

The Shepherd

CHRIST AND NEIGHBORS

"Who is my neighbor?"

Luke 10:29

"Who is my neighbor, would you say?" . . . A lawyer asked of Christ one day . . . So that he might not be confused . . . To illustrate the Master used . . . "The Good Samaritan" episode . . . That took place on the Jericho Road . . . And said our love we must express . . . To every person in distress . . . In front of your and my abode . . . Today there runs a "Jericho Road."
